Is this a new approach in trolling? I like it, actually. It's very original. You go from being a complete retard to being constructive. Did my words have an effect or are you just fucking with me? Either way, bravo! I'm impressed, and I'm not being facetious.

Regarding Fjords, if you haven't played it... What makes you think you know anything about it? Go load it up and give it a run-through. Try it out before you shit on it. If you feel like shitting on it afterward, I can accept that. It would be nice to have an informed shit on my work, sort of like someone reading the newspaper before they pinch off a loaf.

You're welcome to throw any concepts you want at me. The problem is time. I work 40+ hours a week in military simulation development. Weekends are usually the only time I get to work on anything I enjoy creating, so if you want something made then send me a PM and I'll discuss the merits of it with you. If you want to keep fucking with me, I'm game for that too. If you think I'm being serious in any of my asshole responses, you have my sincere apologies/pity.
