Good evening fellow forum users, I come to you today with a slightly urgent need; my cats (and I have several of them) are hungry.

Due to recent undisclosed changes to my work schedule and my salary being cut due to the harsh economic times, I require charitable donations to help feed my cats, without YOUR help they will certainly starve .

In addition, the only way my cats can live in comfort is if they have broadband and cable TV, and let's face it, my cats don't deserve anything less than that.

I have included a picture of my cats below; hopefully the look of utter hunger on their faces will convince you to help me with my pleas.

These are my children. Any help you could give would be hugely appreciated (specifically if it's in the money form). For those that help me, I will be glad to give any Renegade related work you make egotistical and douchy criticism, in addition, I will work faster to continue releasing my laggy maps.

Thanks for caring,
Me and my cats
