

---

Subject: Re: chinese translation
Posted by reborn on Wed, 09 May 2012 10:56:15 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

FlaminGunz wrote on Tue, 08 May 2012 05:50

as to why chinese, I cant say for sure tbh. The design incorporates some calligraphy and design work we did in korea

If you are drawn to Korea, and this is where the inspiration comes from, and you would like that physically represented on your persons, then wouldn't it make more sense to have it written in Korean, and not Chinese?

I find it fascinating that you randomly chose another language for the text, but cannot give a reason why.

I wonder if it's because the single characters are symbolic of meaning, rather than representing letters of the alphabet. Kinda like road signs or other means of symbolism.

I've often toyed with the idea of having a Tibetan om tattooed on my back.

---