Holy fuck, it's been so long since I've been here. The last time I logged in here was five years ago. I cannot believe how much time has passed. I suppose the Renegade community ain't what it used to be. I had actually heard a song that reminded me of back when I used to be on here and when I played Renegade. I had some free time, so I figured I'd check this place out expecting it to be non-existent. Glad there's still a little bit of community left... I have no recollection of any of the shit that I posted here many a year ago. By checking my post history here, and as well as my signature... I am reassured that I did indeed have a childhood. I must say that I am rather embarrassed as to the content of the majority of my posts. It's all left me to wonder.. "What was I thinking?" It would appear many of my posts were poorly written, soaked in immaturity, and occasionally lathered in arrogance. Nonetheless, I'd still like to point out that I thoroughly enjoyed my time here and on Renegade... naive and silly though I may have been. I can very well assure you I am not the person that I was here though. I'm a professional firefighter, and will be heading into the United States Navy as an officer soon. Anyways, I hope you all had as much fun as I did. Cheers.
