No, I was just curious as to why you can't be a nice person while not pretending to be being a girl. Seems silly to me.

But hey, I guess that's how you roll.

I don't really feel like I am getting trolled here either, I remember when you used to complain about the watering down of that word. This thread is pretty much a watering down of the word "troll". Just like the lack of any butthurt, but you guys keep telling me it's everywhere.

Also good to hear that you will reply, at least my questions can be answered!
