What is "fail miserably" in your book? By all counts, I've succeeded. I knew they'd come over and whine. You're here, WhitETrashYWood was here, and several others came over as well. Only after receiving a thorough thrashing did they leave and go to their TS server to say "Haha we said we left, but we're the winn0rz!!1LOL"

I didn't "try" befriending a clan. I *did* befriend them. They don't like you or ButtHurtProductions. They didn't like you long before I came back. Your attitude is evident in their decision. Also, don't mistake pity with some objective standard of caring. I care only insomuch that I occasionally check their forum to see how much farther it will degrade.

/The fact that it's barely made any real progress in six years should attest to that
