And now you know how it is trying to convey any thoughts to you. Also, when you attempted to convey that to me, you were pretending to be a girl as "Valentine" on the n00bstories IRC.

So you actually tried to convince me of that, and were not trolling while pretending to be a girl. In which case, sorry for not taking you seriously, since throughout that entire conversation you referred to me as "sweetie", along with telling me you had changed, and that you wanted to put your past behind you.

I find it very strange that you would expect me to have taken that seriously, since according to you, all of that was a troll, and meant nothing.

Seriously, which was it?

Anyways, I didn't see their names anywhere in here. You set the goal right there, to have all of them posting in defense here. Getting butthurt, and all of that. That is likely the whole reason you even posted here. To draw people in.

I will make my point even more clear for you, the bluehell community as a whole has not shown much interest in this at all.

There is no butthurt over there, and no, wallywood has not asked anyone to come to his defense. It's been quite the opposite, whenever it comes up, it's usually about how hilarious it is that you are trying to get their attention. I just wanted to let you know that the butthurt you so vehemently said was here is nothing more than a joke to them.

I guess as someone who likes to be a dick at times and occasionally cause trouble I thought that you would have set your goals higher. I mean, being the "not so simple troll" that you are.
