

---

Subject: Re: sshot / ssurl

Posted by StealthEye on Sat, 23 Jun 2012 14:54:30 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

An FTP account would not be any safer, since it would require the server to send the password to the client, and the client could still upload anything. You should do some sanity checking though to avoid people from uploading executable files, and you should preferably prevent uploading to places that are publicly accessible via HTTP.

---