i'm aware of how you think i recall, back when Jelly was getting flooded and attacked, that you supported the attacker

you said that Jelly deserved to be attacked and those players deserved to be forced out of the game because Jelly has control of the high host names

you're a complete moron, shaitan tell me how many of the high host names are actually being used report back to me when you have that information - i'd like you to compile a list for me

Not to mention, the people he supported in the attack were the same group of people he bashed (that I was part of at that time) who was trying to (and from the words of shai) "monopolize renegade" all because we decided to put up a Deathmatch server, LOL, like really? Afraid that MP-Gaming mission DM was gonna fall apart. The same community he eventually gets banned from for acting like a "God" moderator.

His moderation skills really work. I think I've caught on.

- Act like a God
- Get banned
- Tell the story on Renforums

I'll take notes
