This is really sad and hilarious at the same time. DJ can't get along with any server owner to be his "dream admin" job so he starts one himself, priceless.

DJ it would be nice if you really wanted to provide a good place to play, but come on we all know in reality it is feeding your need to be in any type of power for a Ren Server. You truly think you are going to get any respect from the Ren Community as a Server Owner? You couldn't buy your way in to any server so you think buying your own will accomplish this? LMAOROFL (I'm sensing a new t-shirt)

BTW you picked the wrong name though, should be the Ren-Drama Servers because I know there will be plenty.

GL on the new server, you will need it.
