yeah did hear something about area getting ddossed ect .. there seems to be only one or two server to befit from area going down .

also teeth if we was to talk about your server what would we talk about ..??? players none ? and none of us realy have any intrest .

heres a tip if you wanted your server to have a chance you should not have told you was part of it . if it had just shown up in list and we all had no idea who or what it was we would have maybe given it a go ?

try make us think you gave it up then rename everything and launch it in a month or so and ppl may even join . name it MDK@aow@ bet more join than they do now or you could call it teethwhitening-aow ? or brusheachday-aow
