In Jelly we're hosting funwars every friday around 10PM GMT, and every saturday and sunday between 10 and 11PM GMT.

They've been a great success so far. We mainly tried to get some newbies to the whole thing in and once you manage to balance the teams out it's pretty good, it's still as intense and it's a great learning experience for them. We've also had just proper funwars with only people who have (lots of) experience playing this shit, those have been excellent as well.

If anyone is interested, contact me around those times and I'll give you the password etc.

We'll all be hanging around in the jelly TS around the time as well: ts.jelly-server.com

Hope to see you then!
