if my team isn't really going to teamplay (NEVER will happen in pub) or play at their best level(tunnel snipe, 24/7 sbh/...), im very likely not to go all out in trying to beat the enemy, because the match on itself is just stupid and pretty much pointless, imo its not even close to an actual all out competitive game of renegade as to how it should be played, which is pretty much the sum up of what clanwars is all about (talking any number of players in the clanwar here, not just 2v2's or 3v3's)

and im pretty sure i already said orca was definatly a better flyer than me, that is why i was a sniper in clanwars, and had someone else fly instead of me

EDIT: " but sure enough, he was a better flyer than me, which is probably why i sniped in clanwars"

i'd say we can organise a game to get this settled but im quite afraid there are very few clanwar players left
