it's not the community that is Embarrassing as a whole it's the way shitard runs things and allows his buddies like muckyteeth to do as they please .

shitard prances around shouting out orders and expects us to listen to him. why would anyone have any respect for such a fcktard . he gets told what to do all day at work wipeing bugs of ppls windscreens .so that when he gets home he feels in charge of his -E-world .

althou I can see your overall point about (embarrassing community)

I have show this better than most a place that allows all kinds of rulebreaking just to keep player numbers up .

also a place where one person gets banned for lite trolling and B2B gunner shooting wilst at the same time other people can rage in game at lots of players and even make threats to go to home town and slit the players throat and get no warning at all ..

funny the logs from this event was shown and the dj-eye rage issue was burried .
