Go fuck yourselves, you worthless little cretins.

you threatened your own job by posting on a public internet site.
comments that could or will get you fired.

the fact some one shared them with walmart on facebook or email them to head office .

.....
is your fault for posting such things . you can not blame others for something you posted on the internet .

wait ? sure some one once said that to me somewhere???

bless he removed the comments reported any shareing of the comment on any walmart page ? in the hope facebook would ban me or remove his own content...shame more than 6 other facebook profiles also posted the ss of the comments along with email it to all and any walmart email.
