i'm also more inclined to believe shaitan than you about the whole cheating thing; like i said, i'm sorry if you weren't actually cheating it got you banned sooner than you otherwise would have been edit - your very last point is a good one lol ok I can see you will never admit to it .as if you did it would show you was on the same side as wilo and shiton at some point..

the fact around the time was prior to all the crap going on with wilo and storm you really had no idea who I was as a player .

I never came up on the jellys radar and none of the mods or admins ever had a problem with me in game or any forums. fact was I maybe play once or twice a month at jelly. and the only time most of you guys came to know of the name MDK was when all the shit kicked off with storm... so to say I was a problem prior to all this is not true. to search jellys forums alone you see nothing of or about me untill after the storm stuff .

you guys banned me only and for the reason of what was happening at storm and for the fake video shiton made...
