Firstly I'm a little puzzled; your parents, as company bosses, would now have to pay for health insurance for all the staff, AND taxes would go up a lot? can you please explain to me, as a non-American, why that would be the case?

secondly, is that something you've heard your parents complain about, having to sort out health insurance for their staff? If I heard my father complain about that, my response would probably be to ask him why he hasn't done that already.

Yeah because it's so easy for my parents to run a private optometry business when most of the insurance companies will no longer cover private practice and on top of that most patients cant even afford health care anyways so they buy the cheapest eye exam and glasses walmart has to offer usually totalling 2.25 and then on top of that you've got to provide money for salaries for 50 people and buy them all health insurance .. in this economy. Seems pretty plausible. Go Obama. How much of that rather long run-on sentence was the case before this Obamacare thing came into effect? (besides "the economy")
