Dude, you just got there, lmao wtf?

I have been there for 2 months and i am well aware of how we operate considering I help run the community.

Coming from the guy who did the opposite of that numerous times lol.

Opposite? I recall allowing you on MY box install your cloudy server because we were friends.. that box later hosted baddog then atomix. I have always been about bring renegade together.

But you do it also. This thread is an exception lol.

The same can't be said for you or anyone else in renegade? It's called maturity bro. I have had a lot go on outside of renegade that turned me into the man I am now. Hope the same happens for you soon.

It's Renegade. You should know by now Trojan. They reflect their community in some shape or form no matter how you look at it.

Oh I am well aware. I am asking that the people in this topic no longer reflect Rencorner. There are too many personal grudges. If you want a reflection of Rencor you can look at me.. flame me all you want, but you will not get a heated response.
