long story short, DJ has a thing for my girlfriend and doesn't want her to be with me i told her i'd rather she not be friends with a guy that openly said he would try to break us up somehow (not that he could - i just think it's seriously retarded) she eventually got sick of the drama and removed him (the drama being his persistently stubborn attitude and secondary motives) he's a German derp that can't get over himself, that's all you don't have to read many DJ posts before you get a pretty good picture of the guy and his inflated self-image (he can't answer a simple question, which is why he thinks so highly of himself)
