He was banning people thinking it was me left and right ill admit i purposely started using usernames of other people LOL he was banning under HUEHUEHUEHUEHUE which i think fits nicely in this situation id flip out too if i bought 3 servers and i cant even fill 1 of the servers after worknig on a game for 11 years and their other game is 100% dead. with that said im a major tiberian sun fan but even ill admit theres a few things that make reborn about as good as normal renegade so i have to give reborn a "meh" rating. for example they got underground units but they slow and when you get to enemy base you can hardly ever surface where you want to. some of the levels are garbage. some of the mechanics of the game are flakey and right now at this moment im glad people dont like tib sun that much just so this shit project dies faster with bitches like this running it. they wont even try to work out our differences so i can play on the server theyd rather permaban me on sight like nutballs
