

---

Subject: HOW THE HELL

Posted by John Shaft Jr. on Fri, 19 Sep 2003 18:34:31 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

WalrusBelive it or not it was a bad CDRW i had just picked up that day. It cracked the green disk and it exploded the red disk. Lucky for me I was able to get me a new one, the guy behind the desk though wouldnt pay up for the copy of ren that was killed. I had to buy me a new set. Not that I minded, I love this game.

I agree with you cause its true.

Your disk could of cracked in 1 of 2 ways. I would explain on how it happen (cause I experienced it many times at work) but do not have enough time. So I'll just post some links and let you read on how CD shattered in CD-Rom Drives.

1. It could be your friends CD-Rom Drive. It might be Defective. You said that he said that ever CD he puts in his drive comes out that way. Well this could be why:

<http://www.pcworld.com/news/article/0,aid,105458,00.asp>

2. It could be your Red Alert CD. You sure your CD was not Cracked in the middle when you gave it to him. Read up on this:

<http://www.fujitsu-siemens.co.uk/rl/servicesupport/techsupport/consumer/top10/cdcrack/cd1.htm>

---