Do you mean what determines ladder points?

If thats what you mean there are several factors...total game time, # of players, and the number of points earned, and naturally the more there are of any of the three the more ladder points you'll get.

If you mean how do you get a better rank...

Everybody that plays Renegade starts with 10,000 ladder points. The person with the most ladder points has the rank of 1, the person with the second most has a rank of 2, and so forth. I'm not sure how many ladder points I have but my rank was in the 600s last time i checked. The more ladder points you get the further up you'll move.

Simple huh.....
