(2) The Player NEVER posted to contest to state his case. Says a lot about guilt. Most innocents post immediately. So the player didn't care so why should anyone else? Had he posted maybe he would have been unban.

I got banned for 'cheating' in a two-bit server once. I didn't contest it because I realized the moderator team was comprised of illiterate, drooling retard jagoffs.

An entirely plausible situation in this case.
