I was only speaking to Rambo not posting. Not getting involved with Iran's Ban. My opinion on Rambo's ban is not going to over turn the ban. I can see where Rambo's shots were hitting the ground and killing players at the same time, so I can see the concern by the mod staff. Had Rambo posted, it probably could have been sorted is all I am saying. I find it very odd he never did post to contest and clear his good name.

And yeah Basketball is best sport. You use pretty much all your muscles and your mind at the same time. Making 10 out of 10 shots, shutting down the player I am guarding, getting a nice sweat on is an awesome feeling, and just the fun we have. (like playing ren with your buds on TS) The next morning can be rough but it smooths out as the day progresses.

And ACK you can just stop. Your pitiful attempts to find a button to push is really making you look desperate man. I could care less about you and anything you say. (I really don't even read it lol) But hey you want to keep embarrassing yourself, knock yourself out lol.
