I'm still wondering why people think liberals care about Michael Moore, and I've certainly never called him my hero. Troll harder? I've never once said I loved the ACA. I'd rather have single-payer. I'm taking the ACA because it's the only thing we can manage to push through in a country like this. If we had more people who cared about their fellow men, single-payer would've been a no-brainer. We've got too many white people who think that it's okay for them to be poor and miserable so long as black people are more miserable than they are, so there's no way we're going to vote for single-payer just to improve their lives.
