Considering the NSA people specifically targetted the Renegade Forums with this Heartbleed problem, which they added in the guise of an innocent pull request, it completely affects you.

The recommended action is to delete your account, and never come back again.

For your personal safety, I recommend staying off anything Renegade X as well. If you REALLY want to be safe, cancel your plan with your ISP and/or disconnect your computer from the internet. For maximum safety, never turn on your computer again.
