i used to work at Target you used to work at Subway i don't get what that has to do with anything at all, but ok if it makes you feel better, zunnie was unemployed for a while and on Dutch welfare, using it to fund his Renegade servers

i don't think less of him for caring about Renegade, but my criticism in this topic was valid whether you like it or not it would honestly be in MPF's best interests if he tried to make peace with those two individuals and let one of them start organizing things again because it was really working out well for them

long live Renegade woohoo
