Ethel wrote on Thu, 17 July 2014 06:55sure it was, but you can't doubly distract from the fact that you ignore roszek's post by saying "LOL HES LOKI ANIMOSITY" (post #1 dodged) and then when I said what I just said, you say "LOL GREAT INSULT" (post #2 dodged)

why do you still post on these forums? I do actually have some sort of a stake in this game and its community as you well know (Jelly admin), but I have no clue why you come on here and do stupid shit like changing your nick to "IvyLeague" and telling people they're inferior because they didn't pay a lot of money to an institution to go sit in some buildings read some books, and write some worksheets for a few years just so they could go tell other people how much better they are than them because they successfully fulfilled the exact path our society set out for them! Congratulations, you're now a sharecropper on the Rothschild plantation!

and thats despite the fact we know you're lying about some/all aspect of your medical schooling, thanks to a little birdie - yet you keep carrying it on just to protect your Internet-ego

please stop posting

first off .. i was the one that told him to remind me of my rage post? he never responded you fucking idiot, i guess he dodged me? derp a little birdy ... must be a pretty great source if they have no idea what they're talking about. u mad poverty?

the fact you keep it anonymous means its complete bullshit anyways. nice life faggot. i mean that in the most sincere way possible as we all know you have no social life outside of the internet. exactly why you take it so god damned seriously and forced most of the respectable members out of jelly. they just can't take something that's supposed to be for fun as serious as you do. you run it like a fucking dictator lmao my way or the highway. at least you have some sense of responsibility and power in life huh?!

the only reason i come on here and troll this forum is because it's hilarious making you so mad so easily and then getting all the kids that are just as desperate and weird as you to pick on me. it's a form of fun for me to do in the mornings before i leave for work. entertainment. trust me the internet isn't that fucking serious, the sooner you realize that the better.

also i don't know why you keep calling me a sociopath, maybe you should put that middle school education to use and figure out what that diagnosis means before you keep labeling people. you're the only one that shows any sociopathic tendencies around these parts champ. ie: when i posted logs of all the terrible things you said to people over the years and you lied and said they were faked to cover that e-reputation. (other than Iran but he gets off the hook because he's so fucking dumb he's harmless anyways; also if i'm banned from jelly and he's not that just proves how stupid you are)

why are people on welfare allowed to have internet connections? does time warner cable accept food stamps as payment now?

the fact you can keep me banned for the things i say when you sit on here and say shit 100x worse all the time is quite fucking hilarious. real great job representing jelly community brah! the hypocrisy is real. dat e-grudge runs your entire life and i love it.
