Well clearly if I tried registering as my self king nerd would have had some script installed to ban me and then have a drone come to my house ring the door bell and slap me in the face. It was funny though cause I was messaging Manuel that I was going to come on TS as you and see how long before I was banned, the second I said one word Xpert flipped a shit and banned me lol. He recognizes my voice permanently. <3

You bring up this so called grudge that only you seem to have a hard on. I'm just getting rid of you so I don't have to deal with your shit since no one accepts you anywhere in Renegade except rencorner. I mean look at these posts. You're posting hardcore making yourself look like a complete ass but in your imaginary world, you're the one coming out on top and making everyone look bad

You wouldn't of gotten off to a bad start if your hard on for Ethenal didn't get in the way. You literally registered as him on the forums and used his nickname on TeamSpeak.

And for a dead community I have, then gee, we have one of the highest ranked L4D2 servers for a dead community. As I'm typing, both our L4D2 versus servers are at 20/24 and 18/24. Not to mention we were the most populated US Ren-X Server along with Jelly but that slowly died due to the crashes.

But what do I care. Keep up your bashing of other people on these forums and pretending you don't care even though you obviously due since Ethenal seems to be doing a good job at making you reply back to him. You care so much about Jelly since you bring it up so much. You even have a topic dedicated to your jelly ban in the spam section. Not to mention, you used a moderator's nick to read your private ban discussion and reply with that mod's nick.
