actually it isn't lmao! I just used the word "capitalist" for fun though I hesitated before wanting to use it in the thread title.

There are actually two Capitalisms. One is good and the other, bad. But the gullible masses are made to mistake both for the same thing. The ramifications are immense.

International Finance Capitalism (I will shorten it to IFC) is the big global corporations which, in addition to capital, wield political power, get puppet presidents elected so they can continue their leeching off the banking colonies (cynically still known as "nations" with flags and all)

Private enterprise capitalism (I will shorten it to PEC) is about you and me starting a business, persevering at it and making it a success so we can do what we want in our lives instead of blowing it away by not being creative.

IFC would like to have a predictable economy which means making sure they get big and attain stability in that position while denying the opportunity for the common man to practice PEC because it will disrupt/destabilize their grip.

They have been so successful over the past 100 years that nearly 90% of the world's population living inside the grid are reduced to being employees that will not have the skill to start a business and free themselves. They are trapped humans who will end up in a statistic report or chart/graph. The "free" public education system is there to serve the elite to create a uniform farm of like-minded humans who, having a very watered-down version of events, will never suspect that that entire system is inimical to their interests.

Now going back 100 years, the International Finance Capitalists fooled the gullible masses into hurting themselves when they convinced them that Communism was going to free them from the giant IFC overlords. The unthinking masses fell for the ruse not knowing that Communism was a tool created & funded by the Finance overlords themselves to deprive the people of their natural human right to exercise private enterprise!

The masses then began to view anyone who was being creative in the business sense well-as upper class members of society as being part of Finance Capitalism. Fucking idiots! The entire "Russian" revolution was about the brainless sheep falling for the Commie-false-promises. These people actually believed that someone was willing to babysit them so they can shrink to a level of mediocrity and not exercise their human right/responsibility to be creative and use their talents.

What IFC was able to do was bankroll a monster, Communism, and hide behind it while agitating the people to hate their rightful superiors who used their creative power to establish businesses. This was done to eliminate IFC's national enemies. The people ran amok, tore down the businesses, and tortured and killed the CEO's and their managers letting the Finance Capitalists, using their Red Commie "government" patsies to go for the land-grab while "nationalizing" everything they could get their hands on.

The real losers were/still are the lazy ass people who fell for the cunning ruse. Even today these same lazy bastards hate anyone who use their unique natural talents, take the initiative, and god-forbid end up starting a business!

Hear them howl!

Now going back to nodsoldiergirl, the whole make-money tactic of buying an item for a cheap price and then reselling it with a significant price increase is NOT A WHITE ARYAN idea. It is a Jewish tactic invented by the Jews for themselves.

Once upon a time in merry England, the English had a unique honour code of business practices. No windows were in their shops showing off their wares, selling only one type of item (someone selling sugar/salt cannot sell teaspoons because the other English shopkeeper across the street is selling the utensils), not having any lights illuminating their store wares windows, etc. It was a peaceful and unique White society based on honour and commonsense; not greed.

When the Jews immigrated to England and set up shops, they blew all these traditions out the window. They set up shops with lighted windows, shops carrying a multitude of wares - he invented the bazaar/department store system, and smashed up English business traditions. This led to anti-Jewish sentiments among the orderly English folks.

You defend nodsoldiergirl's actions and say it is capitalism when it is just a cheap crude tactic pioneered by a Asiatic tribe of Mongols. It has nothing to do with capitalism or free enterprise but just a mercenary tactic to make quick money. You Whites, falling prey to alien ideas and not upholding your usual honour for which you were well renown for in the past, are finished.

Today, greed means nothing. It's "business" as usual!

"We Jews have spoiled the blood of all the races of Europe. Taken as a whole, everything is Jewdified. Our ideas animate everything. Our spirit reigns over the world. We are the Lords."

The sad part is, he/she isn't going to profit anything from it. Ebay takes 10% of whatever then there's also the shipping price. In reality, they're getting the same amount of money back for what they paid for it. It's really retarded lol.

Exactly! I wonder if he/she realizes this or not.

Starbuzz still hasn't figured out how 'murica works. Bleeding liberalism should be considered a disability.

You may have to reconsider that statement.
