Try_leeBleh... the whole you must be 18 thing is easy to avoid.

The part about either having a credit card or an email address from a service provider isn't though.
For some reason they don't like @ntlworld.com emails.

Now I gotta try and convince my papa.

Wait... you can sign in using a microsoft .net passport thing?

Hooray!

Wait... no hooray. Even though it lets you use that passport thing, it doesn't like hotmail accounts

You have to be 18 to buy a carved painted piece of wood?
