We're looking to onboard people to test the TT Scripts 4.x patch for Renegade 1.038 before we roll the update to the public.

We will select those who are interested, active, and regular, and ask them to install a second copy of Renegade (or replace their current installation with one) with the 4.x patch for 1.038. We expect testers to enable extended crash dumps and report any crashes, glitches, or oddities they find to us, including additional information about the issue when applicable, such as steps to reproduce and system details. To the best of our knowledge, this patch should not cause any issues playing in public servers running 1.037, as the changes between 1.037 and 1.038 should not break compatibility.

If you're interested, show it by dropping a message in this thread.
