Well I seriously can't see any serious crackers aiming at cracking RenGuard. It would be mostly in the interest of script kiddies who like to cheat. If you look at the cheats and how they are made, you will find that most if not all of the cheats are made using RenTools and mod'ed skins. I'm surprised it took them so long to figure out how to cheat in Renegade full stop. I don't think any one of them has a chance against a smartly protected program. Thus I wouldn't worry too much, but I do know what you are saying, you can never be too cautious.

Either way, keep up the good work and if you need, ask anything of me and I'll help, either with theory or code.

Cheers,
D.
