Let me repeat myself. I'm pretty sure anywhere I move them will be targeted. These guys hate me and every project I am a part of. If I wrote a book and sold it on Amazon.com they'd DoS amazon.com... it's sad.

Let me reiterate that there has only been about 2 minutes of downtime that wasn't caused by an attacker. I'm paying top dollar for excellent high quality bandwidth and it's being enjoyed by trojan-infected packet bots instead of you guys who I buy it for.

Regarding crimson79, we are painting my office so most of our computers are on the floor in my living room until we are done.
