Quote:you were banned for alot of reasons. No one really gives a shit if you cheat or not, we would have banned you anyways. Sorry, but we don't like having people join whenever the game hits their maps and then they sit there and go "I made this map, you should get on your knees and suck my cock because I never get any in real life"

You want to prove what you're saying here? Those kind of statements are usually called slander, especially when unable to back them up. Unless your entire point was to make random insults to try and justify what you do on your servers - which makes me wonder if you enjoy having n00bs on your servers because no one else will play there.

I fail to understand something. Without me here, you wouldn't have almost anything on your server except standard game levels and some half-hour wonders that look like a box with a texture on it. Yet you slag off on me because you don't like me saying "I made this, are you enjoying it?" in-game every so often?

That hardly constitutes "Get on your knees and suck my cock," if that's even POSSIBLE on-line... retard.
