xpontiusFor those of u lucky enough not to have 56, plz remember some people do have it and cant aim at squat if u put the privilege into their hands. It may not be their fault but I beg people not to do that to me when im a pass.

I almost always use Q. Unless there's a time where a tank is almost dead and the gunner in my vehicle simply can't hit it, I re-take control to finish that tank off then give it back to the other guy. It doesnt really bother me if he can't hit squat at least he's having fun trying (I hope) even if he's on 56k, since I played this game for nearly a year with 56k and still had many enjoyable matches.

I do seem to notice one thing though. When they're gunning for you, and you rotate your vehicle, why does their gun rotate with the vehicle and cause their aim to go to hell? when I'm gunning your gun direction is independant and the turning of the vehicle doesn't affect it. Maybe it has something to do with enabling "lock camera to turret"...
