i love how you all pretend like this game is your life. most of the host seem to me like they think they got some god like power!! the point of someone being good at the game and others being crappy (wont mention names). then being kicked for being the shizznet. well thats just shizznet. I play renegade with slicer every day and not once has he cheated. Infact he was the one to come set my renegade up and make sure i couldnt cheat.

let me be the first to tell you that i suck at the game and would cheat the first chance i got , but yet cheating isnt nice so i dont do it. thats why my k/d is 169/562 . slice like myself just wants to kill things. So every chance i get now will be used on betraying my own team by stealing peoples veichles and giving them to the other teams.... ted bundy
