I read the tutorial, but I have photoshop Elements. this wasn't a problem until I got to this bit:

Quote:4. Now go to window =& show channels if the channels palette isn't open already, and go ahead and create a new channel. We'll stick with the default title of "Alpha 1"

There isn't a show channels option under the window menu. It doesn't appear that elements can do that...

I'm in RGB color mode, too. Does anyone know if Elements can do this?

(I also don't have the nvidia utility. Is there anywhere I can download it?)
