To see our best friend lie in the bed to watch her in pain just kills me to death Why God ever did it,
I don't know
But I wish I could turn back the hands of time and turn off the show Before she almost wasted her life and left us here to cry Before she through it all away and left us here with nothing else to say If only she knew how much we care for her If only she knew that we always need her there Maybe she wouldn't have felt so lonely and afraid but felt loved and happiness And I hope one day she will understand yes.....I pray

I dont have access to the pitts. can someone pass this on for me.

My condolences go out to Lynne's family and to Ack. I am sure Tery will take her in like he did many of us. May her trip be save, and have her stop by once and a while. She will be truely missed.
