Its a movie. When you watch a movie you are expected to immerse yourself into the world and environment of the movie without question. You might as well be like OMG WHY CAN THEY MAKE MECHS AND ALL THOSE COMPUTERS BUT NOT A WASHING MACHINE! or complaining that the mechs could not have fired as long as they did with as little ammo as they carried onboard. Its a movie, if they say the machines were not all destroyed by the nuke attack on 01, then they weren't. If you want to trash the entire trilogy just because of some nitpicks you make, then go ahead but don't expect to enjoy any movies if all you do is search for and focus on any logical flaws.
