there are alot of mine/vech tricks, like il ust like em mass throw time c4 in your own building if u think mass infantry are comming, show em to camp!

buggy bombs are an old example, pop up your humv, like on a ramp, and throw massive remote c4 on the bottom of it, you will need about 30+ or wahtever the max was, run onto the airstrip and then !boom! my friend did this to me 3v3 alot on lan games this is really basic, but memorize how long time c4 take to blow and how long it takes a harvy to go back to the refinery, then get like 10 team mates to throw it onto the harvy, i did this in a 10v10 match at a net cafe, it was the best rust ive ever pulled off this is a bud idea but still works, massive mine and place remote c4 on a vech, leave it open, watch it, blow it up (and kill the person getting into it) at the same time (its useless and a waste, but boy is it funny!

but the mine ones work good, but this is how a good 'team' will do it, get another person to mine the apc, this is better because it will not damage the APC!! if there is no FF on!
