Unbelievable.

K9 and hareman are some of the highest caliber men I have met out here. I have played with, and against them, been in clans and have watched them moderate fairly, and equally. It takes a lot to distance them from someone they have been steadfastly loyal to, and have supported from the beginning.

I hope it was worth it, because you have lost my respect for you and your staff. This will be my last posting here. I have no one left here to talk to here, or debate with as an equal any longer.

K9, and old man hareman, if you read this, it was good knowing you. Take it easy, and here's hoping we meet again. (Lifts beer)

Fair winds, and following seas fellas.
