Okay, I'm no longer working on my friends PC, but I just bought a new case for myself.

And I'd like to take this time to brag.

It's an Aspire X-Alien Silver Steel Server Case, and kicks all amounts of unholy ass. Pics. I recommend it highly.

It's going to waste right now, though. I don't have any other pieces yet (I wanted to get the case first so I have a place to put them when I do get them), so I put a shitty 1GB HDD that I've got into it. I hope it doesn't taint its glory.
