Sir Phoenixx you should scroll through this tread looking only at your comments...

Regarding aimbots, think of it this way - (assuming you are a good sniper) - have you ever been so pwnd that you think the other guy has an aimbot? Not me (except on very laggy servers which explains itself). Even if some people that I play with do have bots and tuned them down (added less acuracy, slower aim speed) as to not be noticed, I still don't care cuz I can own them or have fun trying.

Anyways the Renegade community is quickly dying and I think all we need is some lamer to make a good bot then I'm sure the community will completely die. I think devious programers understand that.
