here is a little tip ive found.... Ok usally a GDI team will plant mines at the front of the barricks, and the sbh's go thorough and blow them up and die but 1 or 2 make it in then or before it is completely remined. Tired of this problem???? Well buy a humvee and line it up with the barricks, push w a tad and squeeze urself into the front section. Now the hardest part. Page someone else on your team and tell them come over to barricks and open walk up to door and open it u must be perfectly inlined with the door space and as soon as it opens hit the gas and your inside hte barricks with your humvee and teammates lauging and taken screen shots of you.get in back of barricks with an engee and point that 50 cal at the door they aint gettin through you and if they get in and runin around simply run there asses over
