Give me a bottle of Vodka and Ill be happy for a little while

PS: Why does everyone always gather around me when I start to chug the bottle of vodka like soda? Everyone always says how bad it tastes and how it burns. I rarely taste anything bad or burning sensations from any kind of alcohol(or food or other liquids), incept for Souther comfort and blue cheese, for some unknown reason. Oh well, the straight up Polish Vodka over in Poland is pretty much like rubbing alcohol, fun stuff. :twisted:
