EnglandInfinint, there are many morons in this world, if you let them get to you, the you need to re think about what things are important to you.

This is a forum, who cares what some kid across the other side of the world thinks of you

Your spot on their mate!

Who gives a flying shit if some snotty 10 year old kid says your a n00b for killing him. Of course he's gonna be pissed off, mainly because someone better than him has shown him up.

Regarding people on the forum... all i can say is there are some great peeps on here and of course where ever theres good, theres always bad, sorry buddy but its a fact of life that we all have to deal with.

If you let the bastards get to ya, then you've lost, but if you just take it with a smile and class it as a joke rather than an insult you've already won, no one can take that from you!
