

---

Subject: If you're going to play with Aircraftkiller..
Posted by Aircraftkiller on Mon, 22 Dec 2003 22:10:02 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Quote:c) The anonymous person that was kicked, who Ack actually knows quite well under his "real name" was just a perfect example of how someone can definitely not be cheating, but an overzealous moderator that has a hair up their ass can find a reason to remove anyone that they simply don't feel like playing against.

It's nearly impossible to tell who is who when known players use unknown nicknames for whatever reasons they can think of to use them.

Am I supposed to know anomyser = tanhm07 when he doesn't mention anything to me? Most people have the common courtesy to message you privately and tell you that they're someone you know, and that you know not to kick them in the case that they may do something suspicious.

Without prior knowledge, I had no idea of who he was.

---