Here in California, all 10th graders take a world history class that crams everything from early mesopotamian nations to Bill Clinton.

Then the next year we take a US history class which focuses on the US.

Its good that they at least teach world history in brief, but i have noticed that most of the teachers i have had are like "god bless america" 24/7...and when they start blabberin on for the whole class period, they end up explaining the situation in Iraq so a disiplined monkey could understand.
