um...your picture does not actually prove anything...

The fact that EA is acting as a download mirror for files does not prove that they are shutting down WOL...

Besides, you play Reborn on WOL, and a big company would never shut down an entire game's servers to make a whole set up for one mod...especially not with everyone acting in an angry, unsatisfied fashion about said mod...

A better idea would have been to post your "mate's" email...if your story is true, his e-mail would undoubtedly provide supporting evidence...

Smells like someone trying to start another rumor...

But thats just me. [/i]
